Logo Usage Instructions

The InstallationMasters™ Training and Certification program permits Certified Installers and Accredited Instructors to promote their participation in the program. Use of the InstallationMasters™ logo can be used to identify that a person:

1. Has met the qualifications of the InstallationMasters™ Training and Certification Program
2. Has maintained the requirements to keep the certification or accreditation current

The use of the InstallationMasters™ logo is strictly controlled and all usages of the logo are subject to the review and approval of the Program Administrator prior to implementation. The wording of any information about the InstallationMasters™ program must be reviewed by the Administrator, and may not misrepresent the program or the nature of the certification. The agreement fees are nonrefundable regardless of the results of the review process. It is the responsibility of the applicant to demonstrate compliance with the logo use instructions, and incomplete submissions will not be processed.

LOGO COLOR

The full-color version of the logo should be used whenever possible. In print applications, it can be reproduced with either spot colors or 4-color process. If print colors are limited, the logo should print in black. Exceptions should always be submitted to the InstallationMasters™ Program Administrator for approval.

INCORRECT USAGE

InstallationMasters™ is a program, not an organization. Marketing materials must clearly indicate participation in the program and not imply participation in AAMA, or indicate or imply that the InstallationMasters™ certification applies to companies, teams or groups of installers, installations, or products. Certification applies only to individual installers who have passed the certification exam and maintain their certification. Wording may not imply that all installers are certified, since that would need to be verified on an on-going basis and could change.

Wrong:

"All our installers are InstallationMasters™ Certified."
"Company name is a member of InstallationMasters™."

Right:

"We sponsor certification of our installers through the InstallationMasters™ certification program. Request to see the installer's ID card."

Wording currently on the InstallationMasters™ web site may be used to provide background information regarding the program, or the intended purpose of the program.

InstallationMasters™ is a trademarked name and must always be shown as one word followed by the trademark symbol.

Wrong:

"Installation Masters"
"Installation Masters TM"

The Service Mark License Agreement is for one year and may be renewed following notification from the Program Administrator. Renewal fees and submission of updated materials are the responsibility of the licensee. Failure to renew or failure to notify the Program Administrator of changes in the approved materials will result in the termination of the agreement, and all materials using the logo must then be destroyed.

Questions about logo usage may be directed to the Program Manager at Architectural Testing.
